

A large industrial machine, possibly a pump or motor, is shown mounted on a wooden pallet. The machine features a grey motor housing on the left, a white cylindrical body in the center, and a blue flange on the right. A red handle is visible on the left side of the machine. A white tag with the number '24671' and a logo is attached to the machine. The pallet is made of wooden slats and has a label that reads '1000'. The machine is situated on a concrete floor, and a portion of a vehicle tire is visible in the background.
